By Telegraph to The Times.
SAN DIEGO, May 5.—[By the Associated Press. 1 This evening United States Mershal Gard seized the Chilean steamer Etata, now receiving supplies in the harbor, and placed Capt. Mauzeum under arrest. Telegrams have been passing between this city and the Department at Washington, which brought about the above results. Tugboats have left to seize two vessels seen outside, one of which is supposed to be the Robert and Minnie, and the other the Robert and Minnie, and the other a ship belonging to the insurgents, which have been hovering around the entrance to the harbor to receive supplies taken on board the Etata.

A warship was first sighted about noon today going north. Ten hours later she repassed the harbor going south, laying to just north of Coronado Islands. Customs Officer Berry sent a party out to investigate, who reported seeing a large vessel under steam which they could not approach nearer than two miles, on account of steaming away from them.

Orders were received from Secretary

Orders were received from Secretary Blaine to seize both vessels if found within the twelve-mile limit, and both Marshal Gard and Collector Berry have gone out tonight in different tugs for that purpose.

At midnight last night the Etata received forty head of cattle, twenty-five head of sheep and 3000 pounds of dressed meat from the ferryboat Coronade. Today the vessel has been receiving other stores, including 800 tons of coal from Spreckel's bunkers. As soon as all the provisions and fuel were on board she expected to leave the harbor and cruise between here and Catalina to meet the schooner Robert and Minnie, from which she was to take the Remington rifles and ammunition. She was to sail this evening.

SENSATIONAL REPORTS IN NEW YORK. NEW YORK, May 5 .- From stories now current in this city, it appears that two prominent commercial houses, both having very large interests in Chile, are furnishing arms, ammuni-tion and money to the two factions, Balmaceda's forces and the revolutionists. The houses mentioned are opposed to each other commercially, and each is doing its utmost to have the faction it supports win. News was received by one petitor had sent a lot of rifles and ammunition to aid Balmaceda's forces. Commercial house No. 2 has been charged by the other with sending arms and ammunition to the insur-The prize for which both houses are struggling is valuable concessions promised by the factions in the event of victory. It is stated here that the war is being kept going by the efforts of these two New York houses. DO NOT OWN THE ETATA. NEW YORK, May 5 .- Regarding the statement that the transport Etata now at San Diego, Cal., and said to be receiving arms for the revolutionists, was their vessel, Grace & Co. say this is not so. They were agents for the South American company which owned the Etata before she was seized by the insurgents. Since her seizure, Grace said, his company had not had control

A STRAIGHT STORY.

The Facts Leading Up to the Selzure—interesting Details.
The facts leading up to the above sensational denouement have been heretofore published in This Times, from the discovery of the schooner at Catalina to the arrival of the big transport at San Diego and her movements at that port. In fact, the first rumor was printed in THE TIMES, followed by the first authentic information of the craft and her cargo, and the matter has been followed step by step up to the of the craft and her cargo, and the matter has been followed step by step up to the present time. The following additional details of the Chilean transport is from the San Diego Union of Tuesday:

"Yesterday's developments in regard to the Chilean steamer Etata, which is now in this harbor, all pointed to the conclusion that she came here for supplies and ammunition for the Chilean insurgents, and that when she has accomplished her object—to mighter tomorrow—she will return again to Iquique without proceeding any further northward. Yesterday at noon a dispatch was received in this city that the schooner kobert and Minnie, which has been tying off the outward side of Catalina Island with a cargo of powder, Remington relies and other munitions of war, awaiting a transport from the south to relieve her of her load, had weighed anchor and set sail for this port, and that she was expected to arrive here some time during the night.

"The efficers of the Etata contracted for 800 tons of coal with the Spreckels Bros. Commercial Company yesterday, and a barge was sent alongside with a portion of this to transfer it to the steamer, but it was found that the Etata was making water so rapidity that it would be impossible to put the coal aboard, and the barge was loaded on barges and put aboard the steamer last night. Forty head of cattle was one item on the list of provisions, and these were loaded on the ferryboot Coronado and taken out to the steamer at midnight. The quantity of provisions and stock bought by the officers of the Etata would seem to be altogether too Jarge for the use of the ship's crew merely, and adds weight to the supposition that they are intended for the insurgents.

sition that they are intended for the insurgents.

"A portion of these supplies were marked 'Esmeralda' at the warehouse before they went out to the steamer. Esmeralda is the name of one of the first men-of-war in the Chilean navy, and is one of the boats in the possession of the insurgents. This also points to the same conclusion.

"There seems to be a great deal of ignorance existing among the crew of the Etata as to her future movements. A Union reporter went aboard the steamer yesterday and questioned a number of the men in regard to her mission. No one seemed to know where she would make for next or what she came into this port for. There was nothing aboard the ship of a warlike character and she carries no cargo whatever. The crew of the Etata numbers ninety men all told, most of whom are Chileans. The all told, most of whom are Chileans. The engineers, however, are English, the steamer is of English make and is owned by an English company, though sailing under an English company, though sailing under the Chilean flag."

The Evening Sun of Monday devotes over a column to the big ship, which, it says, purchased between $60,000 and $70,000 worth of supplies in San Diego. The Sun reporter boarded the vessel, which he says carries a crew of, ninety men, and that everything is conducted on the same principle as a man-of-war. The Sun contains the following significant paragraphs:

"A visit to the vessel was attempted by several people, but no one was permitted to go on board yesterday. One or two alleged passengers came ashore, but their replies to questions resembled those made by the captain. All hands, however, were willing to have it known that they sympathized with the Chilean rebels.

"Meanwhile it came out that an English.

put in at San Diego Sunday morning, which calls forth the following from the Sun:

"An interesting rumor got around this morning that the Mexican man-of-war Democrata had been attracted here by the report that the schooner at Catalina was a fillbustering craft, and would call outside the harbor for a San Diego contingent of Lower California invaders. She came up, it is said, to be on hand at the transfer, and will now keep an eye on both suspicious vessels."

AT SAN FRANCISCO.

AT SAN FRANCISCO. The San Francisco Examiner has discovered that every representation made by the owners of the Robert and Minnie was false, and that the vessel was towed out of the harbor there by a steam tug, and taken to Catalina, as has been published; that false statements were made about the destination of the vessel, her cargo, manner of loading, etc. In fact, the Examiner says that "every movement of the vessel has been shrouded in mys-

of the vessel has been shrouded in mystery," that Brush busied himself for days in preparing for the trip, and that he refused to talk to anyone. The following facts are given by the Examiner:

She (the Robert and Minnie) was berthed on the 21st and 22d at the end of Long wharf, Oakland, and there took on a considerable cargo of heavy-weight freight. None of the railroad officials were on duty yesterday, but two of the Long wharf stevedores spent the day bobbing for smelts on the scene of their daily tolit. One said that he did not know anything about the schooner, and the other declared that she took her cargo from freight cars alongside the edge of the dock. He was so persistent and vehement in his assertion that the cargo consisted of railroad supplies as to excite suspicion. He claimed that much of the freightfwas railroad fron, and that the remainder consisted of a number of boxes and cases containing picks and shovels. "The Robert and Minnie is entirely too light a vessel to carry any railroad from worth speaking of, and even if she was not, there are no facilities on her or long wharf for handling such cumber.

ralicoad iron worth speaking of, and even if she was not, there are no facilities on her or Long wharf for handling such cumbersome, unwieldy and weighty freight. Superintendent Hawley's end of the story is that on the afternoon of the 22d, a tall man, very dark complexioned, black, mustached, well dressed and wearing a silk hat, called at his office and desired to charter a man, very dark complexioned, black mustached, well dressed and wearing asilk hat, called at his office and desired to charter a seazoing tug for a light tow. He asked terms for towing to sea and per-diem charge for the use of the tug in case he desired to keep it for a day or two.

Hawley named a rate and his visitor paid for the tow to sea, and said that in the event of unfavorable weather he would keep the fug to his destination and settle with the captain when the tow was ended. Extracoal was put aboard the Vigilant, and she was detailed for the job, with Capt. Ned McCoy in command.

At 3 o'clock on the morning of the 22d the Robert and Minnie pulled out of Meiggs wharf and towed to sea. The Vigilant towed her clear to Catalina Island, and when McCoy returned he handed Hawley money for two and a half days' work. Evils of the Murderous Mafia Described in Glowing Language.

Exposure of the Rottenness In the City's Courts and Officials-Indictments Found Against the Jury-bribers.

By Telegraph to The Times. NEW ORLEANS, May 5.-[By the Associated Press.] After six weeks' investigation the grand jury completed its labors in the Italian case and this afternoon presented a voluminous report to Judge Marr. The report recites the killing of Chief of Police Hennessy, the trial of the Italians, etc.,

says: We cannot be mistaken in the assertion that the verdict was startling, amazing, a bitter disappointment, shocking to public opinion, provoking the repeated accusation that some of the jury had been unfaithful to their office.

and, referring to the verdict rendered.

to their office The report goes on at considerable length to speak of the comments made on every side before the termination of the trial touching the action of some members of the jury; the remarks dropped in and about the court room; quarrel in the jury room, etc. It the Careful observers testify with special reference to the marked inattention of the jury as the witnesses submitted their evidence conduct most unbecoming and jury as the witnesses submitted their evidence—conduct most unbecoming and fraught with the gravest consequences when the momentous import of the issue is considered. We are led to conclude that the jury undertook to try the case when it was submitted by their own estimates of the value of the statements made by parties not called as witnesses. With strange unanumity they dwelt upon what they knew, by reading and hearsay, of certain incidents of the assassination, prior to the trial, and made those the basis of powerful persuasion for giving the accused the benefit of the doubt and concluding their deliberations in their favor. We take occasion to say that it was not expected to obtain to say that it was not expected to obtain any evidence of undue influence from members of the jury; for those who were uncorrupted and nothing to reveal, while the others would not make themseives particeps criminis; yet, in their numerous statements much was obtained numerous statements much was obtained having direct connection with and sup-ported by the great volume of testimony elicited during the course of the inquiry.

INDICATIONS OF BRIBERY. It is clearly brought out by the evidence of the jurors that as affecting three of the accused, Politez, Scaffedi and Monasterio, accused. Politez, Scaffedi and Monasterio, the jury engaged in deliberation four or five hours, and, on repeated ballots, stood six for guilty and six for not guilty. This is a clearly defined indication of the conviction of the jury as to three of the accused. It forces the concussion that the evidence was sufficient to justify six jurors who stood resolute and determined for a verdict of guilty, making it well nigh impossible to reach any other conclusion than a mistrial. The three accused named above, were probably making it well nigh impossible to reach any other conclusion than a mistrial. The three accused named above, were probably unwilling actors designated by the leaders of the conspiracy, to execute the villainous part of which they had neither personal motives nor interest. Following this investigation, it was quickly learned that talesmen had been approached in various manners, the vile work even being carried forward in the court room during the trial. One favored expression was that "big money might be made by going on the jury and doing right." There is no doubt such attempts were made by various parties in the service of the defense, and they were entertained by some talesmen and scornfully rejected by others. In some instances a rebuif was met with the answer that it was a joke, but surely it was a well-directed joke of deep significance, when the leading part is enacted by the counsel of one of the accused awaiting trial counsel of one of the accused awaiting trial, now under an indictment for attempting to bribe a juror. Another class of talesmen took special care to deny any knowledge of the ville work, or showed a remarkable deficiency of memory. causing us to conclude that they were silent from fear, or had been cautioned about in-

The report goes on to speak of the unreliability of some of the deputy sheriffs about the court and at the parish prison, although they were not detected in any act of infidelity. When the indictments against McCrystol and Cooney were read in the court room in blank, the fact was at once communicated to the indicted men by some subordinate of the court. When these men were arrested in O'Mailey & Adams's office the deputy sheriff, at the request of O'Mailey, reported to the court that the arrest was made on the

II. F. Parkins, the proprietor of the Three-mile House saloon near Tropico, appeared before Judge Shaw in Department Six yes-terday morning for trial upon the charge of having received property, which he knew convicted of burglary, and under sentenes of one year's imprisonment at San Quentin, was the next witness. He told substantially the same story as upon the previous trial, ile stated that he and his pal, Murphy, had made an arrangement with Parkins, whereby the defendant offered to dispose of all the goods they broagnt to him, the proceeds of which should thereafter be divided equally between them. Early on the morning of Sunday, January 25, last, the witness and Murphy stole the harness from Salisbury's barn, and took it to Parkins, who gave them haif a dollar on account, after promising them 310 as their share of the proceeds. A few days later they received $\frac{1}{2}$ more from him; and they remained at his house for a few hights on two or three subsequent occasions.

Italph Murphy, the other convict, fully corroborated Wilson's story, and added that Parkins promised to put up a tent near his house, so that the two boys could make their home there. He also spoke of starting a second-hand store there, for the disposal of the stolen goods.

W. H. Aubie, a detective in the police department, testified to having visited Parkins's house on February 17: in company with M. T. Bowler, another detective, and found the harness. They had both been there on two or three previous occasions, and had talked with Parkins about the stuff stolen from the Southern Pacific car, but the defendant had said nothing about the harness. This testimony was fully corroborated by Detective Bowler, who followed.

J. P. Hilton was then called, and testified that he resided at the Three-mile House and had frequently seen the two boys, who named Murphy, there. On Sunday morning, January 25 last, they came to the house with a couple of bundles, but he could not see what the contents were, and left without them. The harness was found on February 16, the date of Parkins's arrest, by the Sheriff, and was turned over to the police next day. He assisted the police in hunting for the two boys, and located one in the Cdurty Jail and the other on Judge Wade and a jury were occupied yesterday morning in the trial of the case of P. Darancette against I. W. Hellman and the other executors of the estate of M. Leonis, deceased, a suit to recover the sum of $1,219.70 for services rendered to Leonis weiner sausage man named A. L. Frye, and asked him if he had a license to sell sausage. Frye repiled that he possessed such an article, when Gear asked him for a sausage. He threw down a nickle and was about to wik off when the weiner man grabbed him, and the insurance man, who looke like a John L. Suilivan struck the little fellow in the face. The sausage peddler threw off his coat and gave the big buffer the soundest thrashing he ever had. The matter of the contest over the will of the late Miguel Leonis comes up for hearing in Department Two today, and as there are quite a number of heirs and the estate is worth over $300,000, the fight will doubtless prove an interesting one. Among other interesting developments which may be expected is the establishment of the claim of a girl named Nettle Pryor, who is said to be Leonis's daughter, and who seeks to obtain a share of the estate on this ground.

FRESNO AND THE POLLASKY

Pasadena Case-The Santa Fe and Gossip,

It appears that some of the citizens of Fresho and vicinity oppose the construction of the proposed mountain railroad. They have published resolutions against it, claiming to see in the scheme the line Italian hand of the Southern Pacific Company, and asserting that it is against the best interests of the community to further extend that to the community to further extend that company's monopoly. Besides asserting that the Southern Pacific is backing the Pollasky scheme, these property owners claim that the construction of the road on the line mapped out would do mora damage to vineyards, orchards and irrigation diches than its value would amount to. They say that the road could be built as well in the agricultural region north of proposed route on a line fully as feasible and with less damage. They have united to prevent, if they can, the construction of the road through their property and have retained attorneys to push their interests.

THE SUPERVISORS.

Expert Moore Appears Before the Board.

HE MAKES A POOR SHOWING.

No Obstacles Have Been Put In His Way, but He Has Been Afforded Every Facility for Investigation.

The Board of Supervisors was in session all day yesterday, most of its time being taken up in auditing the regular monthly deluge of demands upon the county treas-ury.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon, however, the rules were suspended, and the matter of the citation of Edgar Moore, the expert accountant employed by the new Tax-payer's Union, was taken up. That gentieman was punctually on hand, accom-panied by Messrs, L. Lichtenberger and J. Mesmer, and in addition to the members of the board and representatives of the press, there were present District Attorney
McLechlan, Sheriff Gibson, County Clerk
Ward, Aaron Smith, a number of county officials, and several prominent citizens.
After the meeting had been called to order by Chairman Perry, the clerk of the board read the resolution of the previous day, directing the citation to issue.

day, directing the citation to issue.

Chairman S. M. Perry then said: Mr. Moore will understand from the reading of that resolution why this action was taken. You have stated in the pepers that the board were trying to head off investigation into its conduct of the affairs of the county. I want to say that the board has not done anything of that kind; but they want to assist you in any way they can. Did you make that kind of a statement, Mr. Moore?

Mr. Moore. Yes, I made something equivalent to it.

Mr. Perry. What reason did you have for alent to it.

Mr. Perry. What reason did you have for making it?

Mr. Moore. From the action of the board in one particular, and from information that I had in regard to other actions that the board were endeavoring to take.

Mr. Perry. The board would like to have any information there is of any one trying to head off any investigation. Because the board don't fear any investigation. Because the board don't fear any investigation. They are not trying to head off anything. And if anybody has said so we would like to know who it is, so that we can get it out of the way. We protose to have an investigation, and want it just as much as anybody does. We would like to have you state anything that has been done to prevent your getting at the books here.

Mr. Moore. Oh, there has nothing been done, sir, to prevent my getting at the books. I admit there is no obstruction. I have made no complaint in regard to a thing of that kind. The thing I am referring to was the application of Aaron Smith at the time to have him investigated—for the board to investigate him. The idea was using at that time. Two bodies cannot occupy the same space at the sanfe time.

"I don't exactly understand what you mean by that," said Mr. Perry.

Well, I mean by that that I was examining into all the demands and I expected to go through them all, and at the time this motion was made for his examination—that is, at the time he made the petition to the board to have him examined as to something or other the papers had said in regard to him, if the examination had been made and minute book or read the book of the proceedings of the Bord of Supervisors during 1891.

District Attorney McLachlan then said:
"I don't see that there is anything more to ask. All the facts that Mr. Moore has been reported as stating positively Mr. Moore now explains that there is no foundation for at all except certain rumors that have been floating about, and that he has no facts; and I think Mr. Moore and the board will understand each other better after this. The board's object in calling you here, Mr. Moore, you understand, was for the purpose of ascertaining if anybody else who assumed to act for the board had been interfering with your work."

Moore admitted that he had not been interfered with in the least, and that County Clerk Ward had extended every courtesy be could ask. He again referred to the newspaper reports, sajing: "I am not responsible for what the papers say. If they make a misrepresentation, if I have not said it, and the papers make the publication, I am Mo responsible. It was certainly a misunderstanding, because they have garbied the whole report there—everything I said."

Supervisor Dayls then offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Wileleas, Edgar Moore has reported to ing into all the demands and I expected to go through them all, and at the time this motion was made for his examination—that is, at the time he made the petition to the board to have him examined as to something or other the papers had said in regard to him, if the examination had been made and the papers taken out of my hands, I could not have gone on with this other investigation. "There were no rapers taken out of your hands, were there?"

"No, sir, not at all; but the investigation was not had."

"Then the board didn't obstruct you in any was?"

"No, the board didn't obstruct me in that. If they had carried out that idea, and had given, him, that investigation, then they cannot be some and his riends then filed out on the county in the property of the most full made to the room with a rather crestfallen air, and the board at once resumed the discussion of its routine business.

my way?"

"No, the board didn't obstruct me in that. If they had carried out that idea, and had given him that investigation, then they would have obstructed me.

"Well, that is a different proposition. Then, according to your theory, if we went to investigate Mt. Smith we would obstruct your investigation. I suppose that is what you mean?"

you mean?"
"That is it exactly, sir," replied Mr.

In answer to further questions, Mr. Moore said he had been told by what he considered answer to further questions, Mr. Moore, said he had been told by what he considered reliable authority that steps had been taken to call a grand jury, and if this had been done it would have interfered with him. Both Supervisors Perry and Davis disciained any knowledge of any such intention, and Mr. Moore again repeated that ne obstacles had been put in the way of his investigations, but insisted that he had not misrepresented the board, although no one had interfered with him.

Supervisor Davis then said: "Mr. Moore, the Herald reports you as saying, "Mr. Moore then stated that the Board of Supervisors had taken steps to endeavor to head off his investigation, but without avail." Now, was the information that you received that we were about to call a grand jury, or were trying to, what you based that assertion on?"

Mr. Moore replied that he based his remarks on that report, but stated that the paper had misquoted him in numerous instances.

paper had misquoted him in numerous instances.

Supervisor Perry remarked that they wanted to know if any one was trying to stop an investigation, and that they did not want to be misrepresented, when Mr. Moore repiled:

"Weil, sir, I shall always try not to misperpresent the board or anybody else while I am investigating. The matter was called up the other day in the meeting, and in the start I said I was not prepared. It is a fact that I have not progressed far enough yet to determine anything, and I don't want to lay anything before this committee but the data I obtained here in the records, and don't intend to lay anything before the committee, with the exception of data, and I shall point out where anybody can go and find it."

find it."

Mr. Perry. Well, this board will be pleased to assist you in any investigation that you or any or these gentlemen may be pleased to make, and you can rest assured that there will be nothing put in the way or that there will be nothing put in the way or that there will be nothing put in the way or that there will be nothing put in the way or the way o pleased to assist you in any investigation that you or any of these gentlemen may be pleased to make, and you can rest assured that there will be nothing put in the way of your getting all the papers and records and every-thing else you want. And we don't like to have reports go out that we are doing any such thing as he's been stated, because it is not a fact. We have not done it, and it is not the disposition of anybody here to do anything of the kind.

At this point, Mr. Lichtenberger, on behalf of the Taxpayers Union made the following statement: "If the records and everything are found to be correct I and everything are found to be correct I and everything are found to be correct I and every other taxpayer will be only too glad; and the world shall knowit. And I believe you gentlemen should be anxious to have the investigation proceed, since the air is full of these various reports. It a report comes out which exonerates you in every way and form, and we can say everything is in good shape, I should think you would be glad to hear it. Mr. Moore has been energaged by the Taxpayers' Union to investigate these matters, and I think it would be well for you to pass a resolution inviting him to investigate the books and records and various things pertaining to your office. That would certainly be a good step on your part, and the public would see that the thing is going to be done, and it would stonall that they wanted a full investigation, and a lengthy colloquy ensued about the Aaron Smith matter and other warrants, the outcome of which was that Moore has and lengthy colloquy ensued about the Aaron Smith matter and other warrants, the outcome of which was that Moore had been imposed upon.

In response to further questions Moore admitted that he could easily have ascertained whether or not the employes received the money or not, and what the work was that they were pald for.

Mr. Davis interposed with the remark: "If you liked this board you would not makesued statements." Whereupon Moore replied:

"I am taking have a great many of those, and have only gone through six months of the two years as yet. And I propose, in the end, when I make my report to those gentlemen who have employed me, to show the warrant and the demand and exactly the irregularity that there is in it, and will give them in detail; and then the explanation can come in afterwards. For the present I am not asking any explanations at all. I am only getting ready to make my report to this organization, and when I do it, then it will all be open and then the explanations can come in. There will be time then for it."

Mr. Forrester said that he thought it was unfair to the board for Moore to make such representations as would prejudice the public nations as would prejudice the public nations it, until his expectations were realized, and added that it was not a pleasant thing for men who were doing their duty to the public to have such suspicions thrown upon them without anything to justify it, when it could be easily ascertained whether they were true or not before the assertion was made.

Chairman Perry relierated that the board did not object to an investigation, but rather courted it, and assured Mr. Lichtenberger, as president of the association, that the board would only be too glad to assist it in every way, and Supervisor Hubbard added that the only thing the board objected to was their expert going before the meeting and stating things that were entirely false.

Mr. Lichtenberger said that that was a matter which the board would have to straighten up with Moore, whereupon the latter retorted that he had not said anything but what he was going to show exactly by the data.

Supervisor Hubbard promptly asked, him if he could show that Aaron Smith had Departure of a Detective for the Smooth Citizan Last Even-ing-How the "Claw" Was Found

Ex-Justice of the Peace W. C. Lockwood who has been playing with the courts, the District Attorney's office and the able assistants to the High Sheriff of this county for over a year past, and has slipped through the clutches of more than one jury that swore collectively and individually to deal with him according to his just deserts, is again in the clutches of the law and will probably be landed in the County Jail on the hill inside of forty-eight hours given a chance to play the smooth citizen act over again.

Lockwood was captured in Oakland yesterday morning, and the authorities here were asked by wire if he is wanted, on any criminal charge. A reply to the effect that the smoothest of the family of smooth citilatter retorted that he had not said anything but what he was going to show exactly by the data.

Supervisor Hubbard promptly asked him if he could show that Aaron Smith had filed a domand for the sale of those bonds, to which Moore replied that he diad not say he had done so; but that he had been informed so. He had seen it in the paper, and it was currently rumored on the streets. District Autorney McLachian then proceeded to cross-examine Moore in the most approved legal style, and the latter said that the papers had misstated him almost entirely. In the matter of the calling of the grand jury, he admitted that he could have gone before it with any facts he might be in possession of, but insisted that it would impede his investigation, and stop this movement of the citizens, because it would take the data and records.

As to the minutes of the board, Moore admitted, in response to a question by Clerk Knapp, that he had not yet looked into the minute book or read the book of the proceedings of the Board of Supervisors during 1891.

District Attorney McLachian then said: zens who call Los Angeles their home very much wanted, and the keepers of the zens who call Los Angeles their home, is very much wanted, and the keepers of the peace of Alameda county were requested to nold the ex-justice of the peace until an officer from his county can call for him. Lockwood's jurgling of the detective burean of the Sheriff's office and his little joke on the public prosecuting wing of the county government, when he returned from St. Louis Mo., with bogus depositions, afe yet green in the minds of the public, and repetition is unnecessary.

As soon as the case which hung on the depositions that detective kusself was seuf to St. Louis to get, and didn' get because Lockwood and his "friend," Mrs. Foster, were too smooth for him, was dismissed for want of connecting links in law. Mr. Lockwood disappeared from the courtroom, half a dozen detectives and officers of more humble rank, were hot on the the track, but the scent could not be picked up, and the smooth justice of the peace made good his escape. Every avenue out of the city was guarded by well-armed men, who had their haw-like eyes with them, and after a few hours it was given out in a most mysterious manner, that has become the stock in trade with the modern Hawkshaw, that he was in hiding in the city, and eyery one of them begaa an interior search. turn from St. Louis with him, put in an appearance, and this convinced the "Old Sieuth" brigade more strongly than ever that their game was still under cover right here in the city. The woman was shadowed and the old letter fake was worked on her to the queen's taste, but for some reason that they could not fathom she refused to even nibble, much less bite, and the mannunters were about to give up in despair when they learned that Lockwood's female assistant was chasing from scalper's licket office in a vajur effort to scalper's ticket office in a vajur effort to scalper's ticket office in a vajur effort to scauper agreatly reduced ticket to San Francisco.

"Ah, ha," laughed the Hawkshaws in chorus, and forthwith the whole ging took up the new trail, and as a matter of course, took fright and refused to purchass a ticket. But the detectives had been given a clew, and with a clew, the improved detective cau accomplish much. They knew that Lockwood was either in or near San Francisco or the woman would not wish to go there, so they hurriedly set their traps in the northern pert of the State.

The officers of the N. C. B. sawed off the wicks of their dark lauterns and proceeded to mosey around every out-of-the-way place on their various beats, and early yesterday morning Mr. Lockwood was smoked out of his hole in Oakiand, or the officers of that city have made a blunder in identifying the man that was booked as Lockwood from Los Angeles.

An able detective was sent up last night, and will probably return tomorrow or dayafter, and Mr. Lockwood will be given another chance to toy with the cog-wheels of justice of this county. The officers have been given as omany lessons at the habitast this smooth citizen that they should know just what to do this time.

DR. ELLIS'S FLOCK.

Only a Small Number Remain With the Pastor. The San Francisco Call of Monday has the following:

Rev. Dr. Ellis, the pastor of the Central Presbyteiam church, who has had notoriety n him by his he grave offenses by the presbytery, was greeted by a very small congregation when he entered his pulpit last night.

There was evidence that the faithful few

There was evidence that the faithful few who assembled to listen to him did not share in the condennation of their pastor as tried by his reverend brethren. The pulpit platform was fringed and fragranz with roses and lilles, and the holy table was hidden under a mass of flowers and vines.

The congregation is divided on the question of their pastor's guilt, some indorsing the verdict of his reverend judge, and others stoutly maintaining that he is an innocent and injured man. Neither at the morning nor at the evening service did Pr. Ellismake any allusion to his trial or its result. The subject of his evening servien was the futility of any attempt to destroy the word of God or its effects. He toid the story of the liberow King, who received Jeremiah's written prophecy of the destruction of Jerusalem, and after cutting it into pieces with a pen-knife, cast it into the fire, thinking that by destroying the prophecy he destroyed its effect, but the prophet was commanded to rewrite his forecast, and the day came when Jerusalem was a heap of ruins.

Since that attempt to destroy the word some estrich feather fan.

Refreshments will be served and excellent music has been provided for the dancers. The managers, Mr. and Mrs. Schooley, have arranged for a hospitable reception to all who attend. attend.

Last Saturday Mrs. Compere celebrated her birthday by an afternoon tea at her residence, corner of Washington and Paloma streets. Her beautiful little nome was prettily decorated, and the lunch was enjoyed by ali. Those present were: Mrs. C. H. Glesse and her little daughter Louise.

commanded to rewrite his roceast, and the day came when Jerusalem was a heap of ruins.

Since that attempt to destroy the word many others have been made. The greatest of these was the attempt to kill the author of the word on the cross; for Christ was the author of both the Old and the New Testaments. They are but the unfolding of the life of Jesus of N. zareth, the Son of God.

In the days of the Huguenots the sword was used against the word, yet the word prevailed. Then the genius of brilliant men, such as Voltaire and Paine, strove against it, yet prevailed not. In our day science was summoned by Ingersoil to show the mistakes of Moses; yet science, after twenty-five years of rescarch, confesses that Ingersoil was wrong and Moses was right.

In this way Dr. Ellis demonstrated the futility of any attempt to destroy the word of God, and charged his hearers to take heed that they, in refusing to heed the word and became Christians, were following the example of the foolish King with the penknife. A DISPATCH from San Francisco this morning states that the Trans-Continental Association is about to make a heavy increase in passenger rates between California and Missouri River points, amounting to $5 on sec ond-class tickets and $10 on thirty day limited tickets, This is undoubtedly the result of the recent combine. It is a very bad move. Rates between California and the East are already too high.

THE United States is a great country. but, as far as population goes, it can not begin to compare with the British Empire. It is expected that its new census will show the British Isles to have a total of about 40,000,000, Canada about 5,000,000, Australia and New Zealand upward of 4,000,000, while that of the other British colonies will bring the grand total up to between 340,000,000 and 350,000,000. This beats old Rome in its palmiest days.

THE plot thickens in regard to the mysterious-schooner sensation. In accordance with a citation issued by the Board of Supervisors, Edgar Moore, the expert accountant employed by the Taxpavers' Union to ferret out asserted irregularities in the county books, appeared yesterday before the board and was heard in rela tion to his charges, publicly made, that the board was trying to head investigation into its conduct the affairs of the county. off Mr. Moore did not deny that he had made a statement of that nature, but he failed to substantiate the charge. The supervisors declared that they wanted a full investigation, while Mr. Moore stated that he had already discovered a number of warrants which had been irregularly allowed. The me of this investigation will be watched with interest.

TRUTH.

Some weeks ago, the question was raised and discussed in these columns touching the right of the Board of Supervisors to employ an agent or lobbyist to forward in the Legislature at Sacramento measures affecting the county.

The supervisors held that they had that right, and so holding hired Aaron Smith to act as a member of the third house.

THE TIMES questioned the right and the policy of the supervisors in this Their plea in defense was that important measures, including anticounty division, required and justified the employment of Smith: and they alleged that numerous prominent citizens, not named, had requested them to take the course which had been brought into question, and also that the members of the Legislature from this city, Messrs. Carpenter, Mathews and Marion, had sent them a dispatch requesting that the services of Mr. Smith be supplied them for their assistance in the public business.

THE TIMES disputed the correctness and legality of this course, declaring it without sufficient warrant in law and asserting further that Messrs. Carpenter, Mathews and Marion had no more power in the premises than any other three citizens; that the fact of their being members of the Legislature gave them no authority to draw upon the supervisors for assistance in the performance of duties which the law makes incumbent upon them alone; and that, consequently, the supervisors should not have taken the telegram of these legislators as sufficient warrant for the employment of Smith, which they authorized.

But Mr. Smith, already at Sacramento in the capacity of committee clerk, was, by direction of the supervisors, given a new employment, which, for purposes of the pay roll, was dubbed "clerk to the Los Angeles delegation. The sequel is known; the warrant for Mr. Smith's compensation as a member of the third house was presented to Treasurer Banbury for payment and refused-properly so, as we held. The matter remains in statu que and, up to date, the warrant has not been paid.

Smith demanded an investigation and that the conductors of newspapers which had criticised him be summoned before the beard to explain. The editor of THE TIMES has been ready to respond to any proper summons and a nttarana THE TIMES touching this matter, but no summons has come,

But a double employment for Aaron Smith was not, it seems, sufficient to satisfy that ambitious factotum. While he was thus engaged at Sacra mento the matter of selling Courthouse bonds came up and this mission too, was conferred upon Mr. Smith, despite fact that the duty of making the sale rested with the County Treasurer and the groundwork had already been laid by him. The sale was made, and at a price which is admitted to be satisfactory, namely, 5 per cent. premium on the $110,000 worth of bonds sold. And now the question of a $5000 commission to Mr. Smith for that sale has been raised; but that matter remains n abeyance awaiting a more propitious time for the oresentation of his inde fensible claim.

The position we have taken, and which we still maintain regarding the employment of Mr. Smith, is this: Conceding that, possibly, the supervisors had the authority to employ an agent at Sacramento-an authority not given them by specific law, but, possibly, derived from their general powers we strenuously maintain that the person so employed could not, under any rule of right or reason, be given double or a triple employment and paid out of the public treasury for each employment separately; that, in hort, when the supervisors employed Mr. Smith to perform services at Sac ramento, the compensation fixed there for should have been made to cover all the service rendered or to be rendered by him at Sacramento for Los Angeles county. It would be manifestly un reasonable and unwarrantable for him to be permitted to draw pay for his alleged services as "oferk to the Los Angeles delegation" (an employment unknown to the law,) and, also, separate and larger pay for his claimed work in connection with the sale of the bonds-a sale not dependent upon the efforts of any individual, but which was made possible by reason of the high class of securities offered and by eason further of the official prelimi naries for such sale already arranged by the County Treasurer. For these reasons, which might be elaborated, we are perfectly sure there is no warrant for the supervisors paying more than a moderate compensation for all the services said to bave been rendered by Mr. Smith, to the OREGON'S WELCOME, that may be made by him for special compensation on account of the bond ale is not tenable.

Having thus again defined our position on these several points, we desire to state, in equally candid terms, that we do not indorse many of the attacks made upon the Board of Supervisors by our Democratic con temporary, the Los Angeles Herald. Those assaults clearly have a partisan animus and were made for partisan purposes. The allegation that the board refused a better offer for the bonds, has no foundation of fact to rest upon. That the Cleveland offer was as good or better than the one accepted from the State, is not true. The Cleveland offer was made for the bonds at par, with 21 per cent. commission to the purchasing agent. This would have made the sale net 971, instead of 105 with accrued interest. Unless the board is weak and complaisant enough to fritter away the advantage gained for the county in this bond sale, by allowing an extravagant and unauthorized commission thereon, it will be entitled to credit for its financial achievement. And we trust it never show the weakness and complaisance which we deprecate and which will seriously injure the board in public estimation.

As to the somewhat acrid controversy which the Herald has raised, or is trying to raise with the board rel ative to this and other matters, we do not see that the Democratic journal is making any considerable headway. In fact, viewing the matter in the light of the very latest developments, the board appears to be rapidly getting the weather gauge on its rash and ill prepared newspaper adversary. The promised Edgar Moore expert reveltions have not, thus far, panned out. Mr. Moore (see report of vesterday's sittings of the board) turns out to be an expert with the maximum of promise and the minimum of performance.

So much for a pretentious "expert" who makes charges without having his proofs ready; and so much for a partisan journal that goes into a fight with its charging squadrons poorly armed and "scarce half made up."

A word in reference to the recently organized Taxpayers' Union, which inaugurated the pending investigation of county affairs and employed expert Moore to discover irregularities. We do not oppose this movement, nor should the supervisors oppose it they are confident in the integrity of their administration; but the committee should be sure of its composition and sure of its ground. In a large body such as this-said to be composed of between one and two hundred citizens-there are many chances for mistakes to be made. Not all of its members are necessarily good men, with good motives. We could point out some members who have no business in the organization and who will only do it harm. These should be eliminated before they have an op-portunity to do further mischief. If the committee permits its leaders and "experts" to go off on a wrong scent, make unjust accusations, and commi other blunders, the force of its attacks will be weakened and its efforts at usefulness be destroyed. It will speed ily get into disrepute, fall to pieces, and do more harm than good. We therefore take leave to strongly advise the men of clear heads, honest hearts and strong hands in the Tax payers' Committee to look well to its course, and put none but honest and just men on guard. If there be evils in our county affairs to uncover, excesses to correct, and unfaithful off cials to expose, let it be done with the firmness of a vigilance committee. coupled with the justice of a court of lawl

It is well staged, well done, and gave evident satisfaction to a large house. Those requirements being filled, it is useless to inquire what the piece was about. The information is not available. amusing.

The "mortals"-in-chief were Robert Broderick and Joe Alien, both as funny as their lines would allow. The skirt dancing by six young ladies was one of the ohief features of the evening; it was done in athletic style and with more of the abandon of the Parisian cancan than the quiet grace of the original skirt dancers. The exhibition took the house by storm.

The performance of a little girl called Bertotto, of about 14, who danded and sangin seven languages and wound up with a sallor's hornpipe was capitally done. At Albany, which was reached at 8 o'clock, the President and all members of his party were on the rear platform of the observation car, and gave a hearty response to the enthusiastic greeting of the people. The Mayor of the city introduced the President, who made a short ad-

The President then introduced Post-master-General Wanamaker and Secre tary Rusk, each of whom made a short speech, the latter addressing himself speech, the latter addressing himself particularly to the agricultural cadets. The visit to Salem was the principal event of the forenoon. The President and party arrived at 9 o'clock and remained a little over an hour. It rained nearly all the time, and interfered somewhat with the programme. The local milities G. A. R. nears and people local militia, G. A. GOV. PENNOYER'S WELCOME. Gov. Pennoyer, in welcoming the President, spoke as follows:

On behalf of the people of the State of Oregon, I do, as its chief executive officer, extend to you, the President of the United States a most cordial welcome. The freeoregon, 100, as is cheef execute onlice, extend to you, the President of the United States, a most cordial welcome. The freedom of the whole State is yours. Upon this occasion all party differences are forgotten and the citizens of our State harly your presence here, as this thronged assembly well attests, with sincere greetings, and even nature herself appears to be in full accord with the sentiments of our people, for in the villey and upon the mountain side spring has just now hung its leafy banners out as if to bid you welcome. We were gratified when we learned of your intended visit, and it afforded us unfergred pleasure to hear of the hearty demonstration that has been accorded you in all portions of our common country which you have visited. We sincerely regret that you could not have prolonged your stay within our borders in order to visit other portions of our State notembraced in your itinerary. I our State not embraced in your itinerary. I assure you that you would have received in all logalities from the mountains to the sea the most hospitable greetings of our yeomanry. Mr. President, the people of this commonwealth congratulate you upor feeling of national amity everywhere rested upon your journey, and it is their earnest prayer that the spirit of concord, our whole country, may remain undisturbed throughout the remainder of your administration and for unnumbered cycles yet to come. Again, I assure you that Oregon extends to you a generous, heartfelt wellows. THE PRESIDENT'S RESPONSE.

The President responded as follows: Gov. Pennoyer, Mr. Mayor and fellow citizens: It is very pleasant to be assured by these kindly words which have been spoken by the Governor of this State, and by the chief officer of this municipality, that we are welcome to the State of Oregon and to the city of Salem. I find here, as I have found elsewhere, that these cordial words of welcome are repeated with inwords of welcome are repeated with creased emphasis by the kindly faces of those who assembled te greet us. I am glad that here, as elsewhere, we look into the faces of happy, prosperous, contented, liberty-loving, patriotic American citizens. [Applause.] Our birthright, the wise anticipation of those who formed our Government, our national and constitutional organization, which has repeated itself in all States of the Union; this wholesome and just division of power between the three great independent coordinate branches of the Government, the executive, legislative and judicial, has already demonstrated that what seems to the nations of Europe to be a complicated and jangling system, produces in fact the most perfect harmony and the most complete and satisfactory organization for social order and for national strength. We stand here today in one of these halls set apart to the law-making body of your State. Those who meet here are chosen by your suffrages. They come here as representatives to enact into laws those views of public questions which have met the sanction of the majority of your people of expressed in an orderly and housest way at the ballot box. I hope it may be always found to be true of Oregon that your legistate to the people, and the purpose of its order on the people of the country. The duty of the whole country. He does not th hose who assembled to greet us. I are here but one king. It is the law passed by those constitutional methods which are necessary to make it binding upon the people and to that king all men must bow. [Applause.] It is my great pleasure to find so generally everywhere a disposition to obey the law. I have but one message for North and for South, for East and West, as I journey through the land. It is to hold up the law [Cries of "Good! Good!" and cheers] and to say everywhere that every man owes allegiance to it, and that all law-breakers must be left to the deliberate and safe judgment of the established tribunais. [Applause.]

You are justly proud of your great State. It capabilities are enormous. Its adaption to coinfortable life are peculiar and fine. Years will bring you increased population and increased wealth. I hope they will bring with if, marching in the stately progress of material things, those finer things—piety, Dure homes and orderly communities. [Applause.] But above all this State pride, over all our rejoicings in the advantages which are about us in our respective States, we look with greater pride; we look to that greater aren of the Government that unites these States and makes of them all one great Union. [Cheers.] But, my fellow-citizens, difficulties, I see, are interposed between us and the train which is scheduled to depart pretty soon. Difficulties growing out of the presence of this friendly multitude warn me to hurry these remarks to a speedy close. I beg again most profoundly to thank you for this evidence of your respect; this evidence of your love for the institutions of our common country. [Cheers.]

RECEPTION AT OREGON CITY. Nowhere has the President received a more cordial greeting than was ac-corded him by the ploneers and army veterans at Oregon City. The Mayor of the city delivered an address of hearty welcome and closed by calling for three cheers for the President. They were given with vim. The President made an address in which he said:

The interesting story of the early settlement of Oregon and the international contest which for some time threatened international war, is fresh in the minds of these pioneers, and I am sure is taught these children of your public schools. The work of those who set up the American flag here, and who secured to us this fertile region is worthy of mention, and honorable commemoration by this generation. Your State has added another to that succession of kindly greetings which began when we left the national capital. We have come out of a land of irrigation and roses into this land, where the Lord takes care of the crops [laughter and applause.] and this dependence upon the seasons is not without its instructive moral influence. To the piopeers, to those who have entered here to labor for the inheritance to be left by them to these children, and to these comrades of the Grand Army, I give my most hearty greeting. The Presidential party then entered carriages and crossed the Morrison-street bridge into Portland escorted by the Marine band, Sheridan Cavalry Company and Grand Army, amid the booming of cannons and tooting of whistles. Twenty thousand people were waiting at the Portland approach to the bridge, and when the Presidential carriage reached this side a mighty chieer went up. The crowd immediately fell in behind the Presidential carriage and cheered until hoarse. a brief address of welcome. In response the President said:

Mr. Mayor and fellow citizens: No more gorgeous, inspiring scene than this has been presented to our eyes in this wonderful series of receptions which have been extended to us on our journey. This State is interesting in its history. The establishment of the authority of the United States over this region was an important event in our national history. The possession of the Columbia and of Puget Sound was essential to the completeness and soundness of our empire. We have here in this belt of States reaching from the Gulf of Culifornia to the Siratts of Fuca a magnificent possession which we could not dispense with at all. [Cheers.] The remoteness of Oregon from the older settled States delayed the development of this great country of yours, but now you are beginning to receive from an impartial and beneficent Government that attention you well deserve. [Cheers.] This river of yours should be made safe and deep so that the waiting commerce may come without obstruction to your wharves. [Cheers.] Looking out as you do toward the regions across the Pacific, it would be natural that this important center should draw from them and exchange with them. I am in entire sympathy with the suggestion of the Mayor that it is important that this commerce be carried in Americanships, [Cheers.] A few days ago when that the great deep-water ships come into that port. Not the least interesting circumstance connected with the new departure in our Bering Sea policy is the direct and active partiplayed in it by President Harrison, notwithstanding his temporary absence from Washington. Eight Hours.
OTTUMWA (Iowa,) May 5.—[By the Associated Press.] A new phase of the miners' strike developed today. Yesterday the miners at the Hileman and Three Cedar mines held a joint meeting and the delegates made a formal demand for the eight-hour day, which was refused. At the Phillip mine No. 2, and at Forbush, Willard and other places the miners who had gone to work came out to see what the other mines had granted. The coal operators think the strike will be of short duration, but those intimately connected with the mines believe the strike will now be fought in the Iowa coal fields since there are fewer miners, and those in other States can better contribute to their support.

Mayor and paid by the city. The report says:

His duties while acting in his double eanacity were performed with the strictest fidelity, as is evidenced by the daily reports of everything seen or heard. The details and material features are so closely connected with the circumstances of the trial as confirmed by other witnesses, that there is not the slightest reason to doubt the accuracy of Collins's sworn statement. It unfolds the whole story of the inquitous workings of the arch conspirator and his lieutenants, revealing the boundless power of a man to overcome and defy the majesty of the law in criminal and civil proceedings through the operations of an unscrupulous private detective. The difficulties of establishing the existence of such conspiracies by adequate proof are almost insurmountable. Secrecy is an essential element and seldom does it happen that any one of the participants will reveal villaliny either before or after its oxecution.

JURY-FIXERS INDICTED.

JURY-FIXERS INDICTED. Sufficient evidence, however, was offered by voluntary and reliable witnesses to jus-Sufficient evidence, however, was offered by voluntary and reliable witnesses to justify the indictment of six men, as follows: Thomas McCrystol and John Cooney with D. C. O'Malley, for attempting to bribe talesman, and Bernard Glandi, Charles Granger and Ferneard Armant, for an attempt by each to bribe three different talesmen. These parties are closely shown to have been intimate with O'Malley. They were often in his office, were informed of all his doings, and were active woskers in the jury-fixing business generally. We are forced to the conclusion, that Dominick O'Malley is chargeable with knowledge of and participation in most, if not all, of the unlawful acts in connection with that celebrated case. Without his assiduous and corrupting influence we believe the verdict would have been radically different, and as a natural consequence the tragic occurrence of the 14th of March last never would have been recorded. McCrystol's voluntary statement to the grand jury partly in the shape of a confession is to the same point and causes us to think he would have told more but for the power and influence of O'Malley and his associates. McCrystol and Cooney were the trusted accompliess and figure throughout the whole affair with a prominence showing the high appreciation in which their services were held. We cannot fall to refer to the intimate relations existing between a class of ward politicians and the prime mover in all these lafamous do-

which their services were held. We cannot fall to refer to the intimate relations existing between a class of ward politicians and the prime mover in all these infamous doings. We have it most directly confirmed that a person holding the position of inspector of weights and measures was often at the agency, and was seen coming to the courthouse in company with a talesman on the day he was accepted as a juryman.

There is confirmed evidence that the influence of O'Mailey with the night watchman and inspector of the electric light plant was so great that he caused them to manipulate the light at the corner of Girod street and Basin on the night the jury was taken to the scene of the assassination, to correspond with the alleged actions on the night of the murder. His influence also accounts for the alterations in the book of records at the electric light plant.

From the beginning of the investigation, there is centinuous evidence—of the pernicious combination of what is known as O'Mailey's Detective Agency. It advertises that one of the ablest criminal lawyers at the bar is attorney for the agency. We know for an absolute fact that a bank account is kept and checks drawn in the name of O'Mailey & Adams, the interested parties being D. C. O'Mailey and Llonel' Adams. Such a combination between a detective and prominent criminal lawyer is unheard of before in the civilized world, and when we contemplate its possibilities for evil we stand aghast.

O'Malley's RASCALLY RECORD.

O'MALLEY'S RASCALLY RECORD. The report then goes over O'Malley's record from the time he served a term in Cleveland for larceny, detailing the indictments found against him, the New Orleans conviction for minor offenses in the criminal courts, etc., and fenses in the criminal courts, etc., and says:

So pernicious to the administration of justice were his doings that while Judge Roman presided in the Criminal Court he ordered O'Malley excluded from the room. This was during the time the detective's present associate, Lionei Adams, was District Attorney and it is a significant fact that two indictments against O'Malley for tampering with witnesses were not brought to trial but were notle prossed by the District Attorney prior to the expiration of his term.

The inside view we are enabled to get at the workings of this detective agency through Detective Coilins, abundantly corroborated from many sources, convinces us that it had at its command a band of perjurers, blackmallers, suborners and jury tamperers, and that it has for some time been an element of discord in the community and a stumbling-block to the administration of justice which should be eradicated. That its career in crime has not been cut short is a matter of wonder and is, and doubt, due to the fact that O'Malley and his co-workers banded together for self-preservation. preservation.

We doubt not that the Italian government would be rather rid of them than be charged with their custody and punishinght. It cannot be questioned that secret organizations whose teachings are opposed to the fundamental principles of the Government of the United States must be a continual menace to the good order of society and the material welfare of the paople. The law is the safeguard of society. Its just execution expresses the will of people in the condemnation of crime, but where this lofty principle is condemned by the practice of assassination for revenge or spite, and concealment under the most binding oaths, renders powerless the efforts of the law to reach the chief actors and secure witnesses, it becomes the duty of the people in the exercise of their sovereign rights to issue their decree of condemnation. That verdict has been rendered. The power of the Mafia is broken. It must be destroyed as an element of danger, a creation of leprous growth in this community.

BRIBID JURYMEN. The report goes on to severely reflect on the action of some of the jurymen in the trial. The report says: men in the trial. The report says:

Some of the jurcrs testified in the most comphatic terms that had it not been for the presistent and well directed efforts of three jurymen, conspicuous from the first, the verdict would have been materially different. It is certain the special effort of counsel for the defense was to select for service such as were well under? Malley's influence. What can be thought when three jurors were accepted with only some unimportant question, or the clerk told to swear them without question?

time lost sight of the necessity for a thorough investigation of the whole affair. They examined a large number of witnesses, embracing those who were present at the memorable meeting on Canal street in the vicinity of the prison, etc. The report says:

It is shown in evidence that the gathering on Saturday, March 14, embraced several thousands of the first, best, and even most law-abiding, citizens of the city. We found the general sentiment among the witnesses, and also in our intercourse with the people, that the verdict rendered by the jury was contrary to the law and evidence and secured mainly through designing and unserupulous agents employed for the special purpose of defeating the ends of justice. At that meeting a determination was shown that the people would not submit to the surrender of their rights into the hands of midnight assassins and their powerful aftiles. The assassination of Hennessy was deemed necessary to prevent the exposure and punishment of criminals whose guilt was being fast established by his diligent pursuit. The condition of affairs in this community, as to a certain class of violators of the law, had reached such a state that the law itself was wellingh powerless to deal with them so tar reaching was their power and influence. The public meeting on Canal street was general and spontaneous in character, truly indicating the uprising of the masses. We doubt if any power at the command of the authorities would have been sufficient to overcome its intentions. The evidence is before us from official sources that elevance persons were killed in the attack upon the prison. We find that eight of them were beyond question American citizens, and another had "declared his intention," which act carries with it renunciation of allegiance to his native country. The magnitude of the affair at the prison makes it a difficult task to fix the guilt upon any number of participants; in fact the act seemed to involve the entire people of the parish and city of New Orleans, so profuse was their sympa

MRS. F. WESSEL,

325 Boyd st., Los Angeles, Cal.

Dr. Woh was recommended to me by a friend. I had been troubled for years with indigestion, causing fearful headaches and vertigo, making my life one of misery. I tried and paid the best physicians without relief. Finally, to please my friend, I visited Dr. Woh at his office and he advised with me and gave me medicines. This was but six weeks ago. Today I can truthfully say I am entirely cured. I have not felt one symptomof my old trouble during the whole time. Dr. Woh is certainly a wonderful healer of the sick.

April 3d, 1891. 331 Court at. L. A., Cal. I have tried many doctors for heart disease For eight months past my wife was a great sufferer from female troubles. For days at a time her pain was so severe that no rest could she obtain or sleep at night. Unwillingly I forced her to visit Dr. Woh, he Chinese physician. The doctor undertook to cure her and now with grateful hearts we confess to a complete recovery in her case.

For quite a number of years I have been a great sufferer and paid out large sums of money for dectors and medicines, My disease was claimed by some to be Bright's disease, others said it was gravel, but I could not find relief. I got worse and worse until my life was despaired of. The treatment and operations to which I submitted were terrible. Finally at the request of a friend who had been cured by Dr. Woh I consented to submit my case to his hands. The doctor Dr. Woh has thousands bf similar testimonials but space alone prevents further publication of them here.

April 3d, 1891. 331 Court st. L. A., Cal. I have tried many dectors for heart disease but have derived no benefit until Dr. Woh in the Chinese physician, of Los Angeles City, prescribed for me. Two months ago I began his treatment and can now certify that he has done me great one. I would not submit my case to his hands. The doctor Dr. Woh has thousands bf similar testimonials but space alone prevents further publication of them here.

The remedies are purely herbs and roots which Dr. Woh has familiarized himself thoroughly with by a long practice in the Imperial hospital of China. Dr. Woh its the oldest and best-known Chinese physician in Southern California, and his cures have been remarkable, especially in female troubles, tumors, etc. All diseases are located by and through the pulse.

OLSEN'S TRIAL.

The Prosecution Trying to Knock Out the Alibi Theory. MERCED, May 5.—[By the Associated Press.] The defense closed their case in the Olsen trial today. They succeeded in proving a strong alibi, but the prosecution claims that they will knock that out in rebuttal.

Angelo Busso, the first witness in rebuttal, testified that shortly after Ivett was murdered Henry Gray told him he could get $500 for clearing Olsen. On Monday morning, November 10, at 2 a. m., he saw a horseman pass his house on the Snelling and Lagrange road.

They had two scythes with them in the buggy, and while driving along the levee, the horse shied, overturning the vehicle. Edward Denton was not hurt, but Thomas fell upon one of the scythes which entered his thigh severing the femeral artery and entering the abdominal cavity. The flow of bleed could not be stopped and he bled to death before a physician reached him.

DOCTORS IN COUNCIL.

Session of the American Medical Association. Washington, May 5.—[By the Associated Press.] The American Medical Association was called to order this morning by Dr. Patterson of Washington: The president, Dr. Briggs of Nashville, Tenn., delivered his address. In substance he said: Physicians should recognize no geo graphical boundary lines. The good of the human race was the object of all physicians of the American Medical Association. Beyond uniting the physicians of the country, the association helped to spread knowledge throughout all the world. In its code of ethics, which is the golden rule of medicine, two great objects are continuously before the association—to encourage struction in medicine and elevate the standard of elevate the standard of medical education and medical men.

The cry now was for a higher grade of education, and when this was reached, then the American Medical Association should congratulate itself upon having achieved one of its objects, but though moral suasion, not coercion, was the principle of action, yet the time is coming when legislative power should be given this body by which it might act with authority for the whole medical profession of the United States.

Let us ask those members who sulked away from us to come back that here away from us to come back, that har-mony and peace should be the rule. mony and peace should be the rule. The American Medical Association ought in every way to be upheld, and those colleges which refused to adopt its constitution ought to have its members ineligible to the American Medical Association. Dr. Briggs then begged that all transactions should be done in harmony and with success, and closed amid applause.

A vote of thanks was given the president, and a committee of five was appointed to take charge of the address and report in regard to the sentiments therein contained next Friday.

A Legal Decision on a Local Water Question.

HOME AGAINST PASADENA

Mr. Scoville Returns After a Pleas nt Trip-A Fire Monday Night-Universalists Coming-Peronals and Brevitios.

A regular meeting of the directors of the Pasadena Lake Vineyard Land and Water Comdany was held Monday

Attorneys Knight and Simpson sub mitted an opinion as to the right of the company to supply water outside the lands formerly belonging to it, or having thus distributed the water, as to whether or not the company has the right to refuse to continue the distribution. The opinion cited was to the effect that the company cannot legally extend its water supply beyond the line of the original purchase included in the territory purchased in the Lake Vineyard subdivision, but that where such extension has been made, the company is still bound to continue to supply such lands with water, though not in larger amounts than hitherto. The opinion was filed

AROUND THE WORLD.

Mr. Scoville Back in Pasadena After a Long Voyage. C. B. Scoville arrived in Pasadena Monday evening, having just completed a circuit of the earth in the big steamship Empress of India. He was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Hurlbut and Miss Hurlbut of this city, Hurlbut and Miss Hurlbut of this city, but they wentdirectly from Vancouver who tipped the scales at exactly nine to Chicago, preparatory to returning pounds. Sam's face is radiant with

Mr. Scoville reports the trip a success. There were some twenty Chicagoans and about one hundred Americans all told who boarded the steamship at Liverpool. The rest of the tourists, were for the most part, all Englishmen, including some dukes, earls, and the like, which class of company, as Mr. Scoville expresses it 'had to be put up with.' At every port touched the steamer was given a perfect ovation. This was especially noticeable at Vancouver, where the day on which it arrived was declared a public holiday and people traveled from points 700 miles away to see the big ship steam into the harbor. It arrived twenty-four hours behind time owing to a heavy storm encountered. Mr. Scoville reports the trip a suc-time owing to a heavy storm encoun-tered near the end of the voyage.

Mr. Scoville reports that the only dis-comforts experienced were for a day or so in the tropics, when the ice machines refused to perform their proper func-tions. He is glad to be back again in Pasadena and says there is no country under the sun like America, and no place as desirable to live in as Pasa-

A HOT INCUBATOR. Several Hundred Chicks Go Up in

An alarm of fire was turned in shortly after 8 o'clock Monday evening. The flames were located in the rear of Seymour Locke's residence, on Grand avenue. The department re-sponded promptly, but before they had reached the scene of the fire, the henhouse and adjoining outbuildings were almost entirely consumed, together with a number of books, pictures and several hundred chicks, who were passing their extreme youth in the benign atmosphere of a patent brooder. This apparatus was heated by a lamp, and from an explosion of the lamp the fire is supposed to have resulted. Some of the neighbors came to Mr. Locke's assistance, and succeeded in saving two incubators and some articles of value from the flames. The loss is estimated at between $400 and $500;

The story as told by your correspondent last Monday is fully corroborated. The remains are those of the man who committed suicide in '77 or '78. John Steere of this place was on the jury, and J. C. Morgan was the Coroner, and helped to bury the body. They both remember the spot. Judge Morgan says the name of the suicide can be ascertained by referring to his reports.

might not prove a doubtful benefit. It is well known that the coyote is largely instrumental in keeping down the rabbits which have proved so de-structive a pest in many localities; and, starting upon the assumption that the various agricultural interests of this State are greater than the pas-toral, which, I think, is self-evident, would it not be better to keep the few coyotes as a check on the increase of the more destructive rabbits?

The coyote is a carnivorous animal, and confines its depredations to lambs and poultry chiefly, while the rabbit is graminivorous, and will eat almost any green thing.
In Australia, where the rabbit has been the means of depopulating whole districts, the coyote has been imported as a blessing rather than a curse, and has proved serviceable in thinning out the "varmints." Tons of Japanese Curlos.
